

Things to consider when flooring your place

It's our sales guys job to help you find the right solution - but if you've thought about what you need it will make things easier and faster.

- 1 NEED It all depends on your plans. First step is to establish how long you need your flooring to last. Are you planning on a short or long term investment?
- 2 LIFESTYLE Balance the look you like with the practicality you need. A lighter carpet may not be suited to a busy family but could work well in a quieter adult home.
- 3 BUDGET Choosing the cheapest carpet doesn't necessarily save you money in the long term, so invest accordingly to make sure it will last the distance you need it to.
- 4 UNDERLAY You don't want to get a great floor and then skimp on the underlay. Good underlay insulates your floor and will prolong the life of your carpet, so make sure to allow for it in your budget.
- 5 EXPERT ADVICE Come and talk to us in-store (or we can come to you). Our staff know floors and can save you time and stress by sorting through all of the options and helping you to decide on a floor that suits your needs, budget and lifestyle.

Flooring measurements explained

FLOORING MEASUREMENTS - M2

Carpet, timber, laminate, tiles and vinyl are all supplied in different box sizes, roll widths and roll lengths, which makes it hard to compare price. In order to give you a true comparison between the different flooring solutions we convert and indicate the square metre price for all flooring products.

CARPET MEASUREMENTS

Carpet is produced in rolls which are generally 3.66 or 4m wide and can only be purchased by linear/broadloom metre. A linear metre is 1m of the carpet roll width. We convert and indicate the square metre price so a true comparison with other flooring solutions can be made.
